FINM3006
Financial Intermediation & Debt Markets

This course will begin by analysing the theory and practice of financial intermediation, broadly construed to include banks, savings institutions and investment/merchant banks. Topics will include the role of banking firms in a developed capital market, their impact on corporate financial decisions for non-banking firms, and the regulation of banks. The course will then narrow its focus to provide a comprehensive analysis of the role of financial intermediaries in the development of fixed-income markets and will also provide an introduction to the valuation of fixed income securities. We shall discuss the institutional structure of the fixed income markets and the role they play in: (1) portfolio management; and (2) risk management of financial intermediaries. Topics will include theoretical models and analytical techniques used for dealing with credit risk, interest rate risk and liquidity risk – for example: maturity matching, duration and immunization, loan sales, securitization, collateralized debt obligations (CDOs), and collateralized mortgage obligations (CMOs).

Feedback

Staff Feedback
Students will be given feedback in the following forms in this course:

1. Written feedback
2. Face-to-face feedback if necessary
Student Feedback
ANU is committed to the demonstration of educational excellence and regularly seeks feedback from students. One of the key formal ways students have to provide feedback is through Student Experience of Learning Support (SELS) surveys. The feedback given in these surveys is anonymous and provides the Colleges, University Education Committee and Academic Board with opportunities to recognise excellent teaching, and opportunities for improvement.

For more information on student surveys at ANU and reports on the feedback provided on ANU courses, go to http://unistats.anu.edu.au/surveys/selt/students/ and http://unistats.anu.edu.au/surveys/selt/results/learning/

Policies
ANU has educational policies, procedures and guidelines, which are designed to ensure that staff and students are aware of the University’s academic standards, and implement them. You can find the University’s education policies and an explanatory glossary at:
http://policies.anu.edu.au/

Students are expected to have read the Academic Misconduct Rules 2014 before the commencement of their course.

Other key policies include:
• Student Assessment (Coursework)
• Student Surveys and Evaluations

ASSESSMENT REQUIREMENTS

The ANU is using Turnitin to enhance student citation and referencing techniques, and to assess assignment submissions as a component of the University's approach to managing Academic Integrity. For additional information regarding Turnitin please visit the ANU Online website.

Students may choose not to submit assessment items through Turnitin. In this instance you will be required to submit, alongside the assessment item itself, copies of all references included in the assessment item.

Assessment Tasks

Assessment Task 1: Tests 1, 2 and 3

Details of task: Three (in lecture) CLOSED book tests under examination conditions. The duration of each exam is 60 minutes. There will be no special examinations for the tests. Instead for students who would normally meet the requirements for a special exam (e.g. medical certificate), the weighting will be moved to the final exam. Students who do not sit the mid-semester exam and do not meet the necessary requirements for a special exam will receive a zero.

Assessment Rubrics

Word limit (where applicable): NA
Value: 15% each
Presentation requirements: NA
Estimated return date: 1-2 weeks after the date of the test
Hurdle Assessment requirements (where applicable): 50% to pass
Individual Assessment in Group Tasks (where applicable): NA

Assessment Task 2: Group presentation with report/slides Details of task: presentations will be made in groups of 4-6 in size during tutorials. The task will be to read a recent news article(s) (I will circulate the articles prior to presentations) and present the information to the class as if you were presenting it to the board of directors of a bank or board of directors at a regulatory authority. You need explain: (1) how this news is relevant to the bank/regulatory authority; (2) what the implications are for the bank/regulatory authority; and (3) recommendations to the board about whether any action is necessary in response to this news, and if action is required, what type of action you recommend.

- Tutorial presentations will run in weeks 11-13 (inclusive).
- Each tutorial class will be split into 3 even groups – resulting in groups of approximately 4-6 students.
- The presentation will last 15 minutes, with an additional 5 minutes for discussion and questions from the class.
- How the workload is shared is up to each group.
- Each member of the group will receive the same mark.
- Each group's presentation will be marked on (1) how well they analyse the new article and its relevance; (2) the quality of their delivery; and (3) their ability to engage the class in discussion.
- Each group must hand in (to their tutor) a concise “executive summary” styled report no longer than 2 pages in length outlining their analyses and major recommendations.
- Each group must hand in (to their tutor) a copy of their presentation slides.

Scaling
Your final mark for the course will be based on the raw marks allocated for each of your assessment items. However, your final mark may not be the same number as produced by that formula, as marks may be scaled. Any scaling applied will preserve the rank order of raw marks (i.e. if your raw mark exceeds that of another student, then your scaled mark will exceed the scaled mark of that student), and may be either up or down.
