The Research School of Management within the ANU College of Business and Economics is offering up to four top-up scholarships for applicants who are awarded an Australian Postgraduate Award (APA) scholarship for 2015.

The top-up scholarships worth $10,000 per annum are for doctorates in the areas of research strengths of the School. These include, but are not restricted to, marketing science, organisational behaviour, strategy and international business.

Candidates with strong academic records in related disciplines such as economics, psychology, sociology, mathematics or statistics are also encouraged.

Scholarship Value

A combined tax-free stipend payable fortnightly in arrears which includes:

- Research School of Management Top-up: a stipend payable fortnightly in arrears at the rate of $10,000 per annum.
- APA: a stipend payable fortnightly in arrears (in 2014 this amounted to $25,392).

Duration

Three years with a possible six-month extension.

Tuition Fees

All domestic students enrolled in a graduate research program (such as a Doctor of Philosophy or Master of Philosophy) at ANU are enrolled under the Research Training Scheme (RTS). The RTS is a Commonwealth Government scheme that encourages domestic students to complete a research degree program. The RTS funds students in research programs for up to three and a half years full-time (or part-time equivalent). This means that domestic research students are not required to pay any tuition fees.

Application

Applications can be made online at: applyonline.anu.edu.au.

Key dates

Applications for APA scholarships, including all supporting documentation and referee reports must be received by 31 October 2014. The successful applicants will be required to commence their doctoral studies within the Research School of Management, including coursework in Semester 1, 2015 (February).

Eligibility

Top-Up

Candidates who are awarded an APA scholarship are automatically considered for the Research School of Management Top-up and do not need to apply for this separately.

Australian Postgraduate Award (APA)

To be eligible for an APA a student must:

- have completed a bachelor degree with first-class honours, or be regarded as having an equivalent level of attainment (e.g. a Master degree with a significant research component or research publications); and;
- be an Australian or New Zealand Citizen or a permanent resident of Australia; and
- must not hold a Research Doctorate or an equivalent research qualification; and
